PROSPECTUS.

THE first number of a new publication, under the above caption, will be issued on October 1st. The character and scope of the new enterprise are fully outlined in the title itself. ART FOR ALL will consist of a monthly budget of designs issued in a compact form and at a moderate cost, for general use in Architecture and the Ornamental and Decorative Trades. The Publisher has had a long experience in supplying Art works of this class, and confidently expects to put on the market the best and most useful publication of the kind ever offered to the public.

Architecture and the Arts accessory thereto have undergone notable changes within late years, having had an extraordinary development, with several distinct revolutions in styles. The Arts flourish amid peace and plenty, and the public taste becomes more educated and refined as the nation grows wealthier. With a better knowledge in matters of Art, clients naturally become more critical and exacting, so that the designer finds it more necessary to become well equipped with books of good examples of all styles. Moreover, his knowledge is required to be more general. He must not only be well instructed in his particular branch, but must have a general acquaintance with the styles and methods of treatment in other and kindred branches, so as to insure in his own work a better harmony with its surroundings, when put to use. Thus, he requires all the inspiration and suggestion within his reach, to keep abreast with the times, and to bring himself within the sphere of that common relationship which exists among all branches of Art work. There is a sympathetic affiliation pervading all the departments of Design, which makes every piece of good work a source of interest and instruction to every member of the fraternity of designers, whatever his particular calling. For these reasons, a miscellaneous collection of examples representing many different species of Art work, diversified in style and treatment, and derived from various epochs in the history of Art, is found by the designer to be his most useful and practical help. It gives breadth to his ideas, and prevents that tendency to a repetition of the same motifs so common to those who rely too much on their own powers, and underrate the lessons to be gained from a study of what others have done. In the province of Design, each designer, while contributing his own quota of invention, still derives a great deal from others, both of instruction and encouragement. He traces the footsteps of those who have gone before in the pathway he himself is treading, and is infused with fresh courage and spirit.

ART FOR ALL will therefore contain a little of everything in the way of good Design and Detail. It will be the aim to have in every issue something of value to everyone employed or interested in any branch of Art work, with a view at all times to the greatest good to the greatest number.

The first number will contain sixteen photo-lithographic plates and four gelatine plates from photographs. Among the latter will be some fine examples of carving in modern Italian style. The photo-lithographic plates will embrace such subjects as furniture, interiors, chairs and other seat work, drapery and upholstery, sculpture, old Italian details, ceiling, borders for painting and other ornamental work, panels and ornaments for carving and other purposes, capitals, iron work and other architectural subjects—old and new. A similar budget will be given monthly in the successive issues, with variations. Furniture, drapery and upholstery will be largely represented; also good carving subjects of the prevailing styles, with many details of wood, stone, iron and plaster, and miscellaneous motifs for general purposes.

As the work progresses, suggestions will be thankfully received from any quarter as to what is needed in special branches; and contributions likewise from experts who may have in their portfolios good studies that merit a wider circulation.

A few advertisements will be taken on the covers. The moderate price, and the copious and varied contents of ART FOR ALL will insure a wide circulation for it among the trades; and as good designs are especially valued, the successive issues will be preserved and kept on file. The attention of advertisers is therefore particularly called to these covers as an unsurpassed medium for reaching their trade. As there will be no other reading matter to divert the attention, every advertisement must meet the eye in the limited space allotted to advertising. Terms made known on application to the Publisher, or to Mr. A. J. Bicknell, 115 Broadway, New York.

And the subscribers are especially reminded of the fact that they will receive in the course of the year, for the sum of Five Dollars, over two hundred plates of good designs, well selected and well printed, including many gelatine plates from photographs. Size 10½ x 14 inches. The price of subscription to ART FOR ALL is exceedingly moderate, in view of the quantity and quality of the matter given, for its practical value to every subscriber cannot fail to exceed many times its cost.

Remittances should be made by draft, check, postal order or registered letter, addressed to

J. O'KANE, Publisher,

4 College Place, New York.

Rough Sketches from Nature.

By HENRY RYAN.

COMPLETE IN FIFTY PLATES, 10½ x 15¾.

Price, in Portfolio, $2 00.

The above title, adopted through modesty by the author of these plates, does not properly describe them, for they are, in fact, carefully drawn and finished studies in Crayon, as will be seen by the accompanying specimen. They consist of original groups of Foliage, Flowers, Ferns, Palms, Shrubs, Sea Weed, etc., etc., and a great variety of vegetation serviceable alike to Designers in general, Architects, Sculptors, Painters, etc., and to those connected with textile fabrics. The aim has been to furnish material for Artists and Draughtsmen in various handicrafts where floral design may be requisite. Great care has been bestowed on the accuracy of the drawings, not only as to form, but in faithfully depicting the lights and shades, and to the careful delineation of the primary, secondary and tertiary veinings.

Most of the plants are in groups, this method of treatment being more suggestive in aiding composition.

The above cut is a specimen illustration from an important series of Plates lately issued in a cheap form, entitled:

Architectural Foliage, consisting of Designs for Capitals, Bosses, Crockets, Finials, Diapers, Corbels, etc., etc., for the enrichment of Buildings, Monuments, Furniture, etc., etc.

By JOSEPH BARLOW ROBINSON, Sculptor.

In selecting the material for this series, the author has been guided by a fine artistic feeling and a thorough knowledge of the requirements of the Designer. Without departing from the natural forms and features of the plants, or losing any of the freshness and elegance of living organisms, he has culled, adapted, grouped and combined his materials in such a manner as to render them the most available for ornamental purposes. The examples are chosen with rare judgment, and drawn with great boldness, firmness and decision.

The publisher is confident that designers, manufacturers, architects, decorators and amateurs will find in "FLOWERS AND PLANTS" an unusually interesting and useful collection, ready for direct application to many branches of Art-Industry. Price, in Portfolio, $4.00.

SUN & SHADE.

A year ago we commenced the publication of our novel venture in journalism "SUN AND SHADE, A PICTURE PERIODICAL WITHOUT LETTER PRESS," almost as an experiment, with a modest list of less than 50 subscribers.

To-day we are printing an edition of 4100 copies monthly—a sufficiently convincing proof of the wisdom of our hope that there was room for us.

In our rapid growth the wish has been indicated unmistakably for the higher grade of pictures and of the higher class always for quality rather than quantity. Following rather than leading such a wish, we feel that we make no mistake in marking the future career of the Magazine to be rather that of an "Artistic Periodical" than a "Photographic Record of Events."

Our efforts therefore will be directed in the future to make "SUN AND SHADE" an artistic periodical which shall be not only pleasing but educational in its broadest sense. Some of our plans may be briefly referred to:

We shall reproduce the leading pictures in the great collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Within the covers of "SUN AND SHADE" will be found, from time to time, reproductions of the works of American artists.

We shall especially endeavor to encourage the artistic side of direct photography in all its phases.

And we shall supplement these special features with examples of Sculpture, Architecture and Industrial Art.

If in the future we receive as hearty a response to our efforts as we have received in the past, our task will be indeed pleasant, and our road to success a royal one.

PROSPECTUS OF VOLUME II.

In bringing to a close with this number the first year of ART FOR ALL, the publisher is happy to announce that his efforts have met with such general and ready appreciati n among patrons of art works, that the difficulties usually encountered in launching an enterprise of this nature have scarcely been felt. ART FOR ALL has been a success from the start, and a second edition was called for before the year was half gone. He wishes to convey his thanks for the expressions of approval he has been favored with from so many quarters, and he trusts he will be able fully to merit a continuance of the support and encouragement his enterprise has enjoyed during the past year.

In order, however, to meet the requirements of a still larger number of patrons, and insure a still wider circulation, it has been decided to issue ART FOR ALL the coming year in two forms, namely: a "Regular Edition" and a "Gelatine Edition." Beginning with the number for October, 1889 (Vol. II. No. 1), under the title of ART FOR ALL, REGULAR EDITION, the monthly issues will contain 16 lithographic pages of miscellaneous designs, at 20 cents per number, or $2.00 per year in advance. Under the title of ART FOR ALL, GELATINE EDITION, the monthly issue will contain, besides the above lithographic matter, four fine gelatine plates, from photographs. This edition corresponds in quantity and quality of matter to the regular issue of the past year, and the subscription is put at the same price—$5.00 per year, in advance. The plan of issuing the cheaper edition was decided upon with a view to accommodate numerous subscribers whose special branches do not embrace the kind of work for which the more expensive gelatine process of printing has been found the most appropriate.

The GELATINE EDITION will not be supplied by the single number as heretofore, but to yearly subscribers only. The Regular Edition may be had by the year or the monthly number, at option, either of the Publisher, or of the book and news trades.

Volume I (12 numbers), complete in a cloth portfolio, now ready. Price, $6 Portfolio separate, $1.

Indian Domestic Architecture

— BY —

LOCKWOOD De FOREST.

25 HELIOTYPE PLATES FROM PHOTOGRAPHS

Showing abundance of Rich Carving and Perforated Work, Interior and Exterior.

The author says, in his Introduction: "In publishing the following examples of Indian Architecture, my object is to interest all who care for art, and particularly to bring to their notice the industries of wood and stone carving as applied to buildings. * * * The first three and the 21st and 22d plates give examples of the Hindu houses of the northwestern part of the Bombay Presidency. The others show the Mahomedan influence in Rajaputana and Northern India, though the details and ornament are in some cases decidedly Hindu." We would add that the Mahomedan work is of decidedly Moorish character, and the whole series is very interesting and instructive. The Author is an accomplished Connoisseur and Practical Artisan.

Bound in Boards, $5.00.

SUN & SHADE.

A year ago we commenced the publication of our novel venture in journalism "SUN AND SHADE, A PICTURE PERIODICAL WITHOUT LETTER PRESS," almost as an experiment, with a modest list of less than 50 subscribers.

To-day we are printing an edition of 4,000 copies monthly—a sufficiently convincing proof of the wisdom of our hope that there was room for us.

In our rapid growth the wish has been indicated unmistakably for the higher grade of pictures and of the higher class—always for quality rather than quantity. Following rather than leading such a wish, we feel that we make no mistake in marking the future career of the Magazine to be rather that of an "Artistic Periodical" than a "Photographic Record of Events."

Our efforts therefore will be directed in the future to make "SUN AND SHADE" an artistic periodical which shall be not only pleasing but educational in its broadest sense. Some of our plans may be briefly referred to:

We shall reproduce the leading pictures in the great collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Within the covers of "SUN AND SHADE" will be found, from time to time, reproductions of the works of American artists.

We shall especially endeavor to encourage the artistic side of direct photography in all its phases.

And we shall supplement these special features with examples of Sculpture, Architecture and Industrial Art.

If in the future we receive as hearty a response to our efforts as we have received in the past, our task will be indeed pleasant, and our road to success a royal one.
